Gen. Garcia Put on Board the Ermuda at Sea.

BAIL WILL BE FORFEITED

Other Fillbusters Reported To Have Also Evaded the Revenue Officers at New York-Situation of the Struggle for Liberty.

New York, March 18.-A morning paper to-day says: "When the case of the Cuban filibusters implicated in the Bermuda, Laudara and Hawkins expeditions is called in the United States court next Monday Gen. Calixto Garcia will probably be missing, and his bail forfeited. It is now certain that he has left for Cuba. Gen. Garcia did not leave on board the Bermuda, as was generally thought Heleft in a tug and was transferred to the Bermuda far out at sea. With him were other patriots bound for Cuba. Others went to Florida, and sailed from there to meet the Bermuda. Among those who went to Florida was Dr. Carlos Garcia, Gen. Garcia's son, and among those who left in a tug from New York with the general was Dr. Hernandez He is going to be the chief of the surgeons' staff in the Cuban *rmy, which is the only salaried body in the insurgent camp. Dr. Garcia left his home ten days ago for Florida. Friends of the Garcias say that the general will explain his action satisfactorily as soon as he lands and it is believed that he has left a document with one of his trusted friends which will be given out for publication as soon as he arrives at the Pearl of the Antillies. Gen. Garcia's wife told a reporter that her husband would come back to the United States and deliver himself to the authorities."

INSURGENT STRENGTH.

Their Army in Cuba Now Numbers About 48,000 Men.

Havana, March 14, via Tampa, Fla., March 15.-The present strength of the insurgent army is close to 43,000 man. Cubans themselves estimate the number of men in the field as high as 60,000 men, but even if unarmed camp followers, men in charge of provision trains, hospitals and camps were counted it is doubtful if that number could be found actually in service. There are thousands of Cubans who would willingly cast their lots with the patriot army, but lack of arms and ammunition prevents. The insurgent forces operate as a rule in zones or districts and are organized on military lines. The columns of Gomez, Maceo, Lacret and Bunderas are, however, imited to no one province, but pass from one to another under direct orders of Gomez. The commander-inchief is now in Matanzas and the others have re-invaded Havana province.

Distribution According to Provinces. The distribution according to provinces is: Havana 16,800, Mantanzas 8,-600, Santa Clara 6.500, Santiago 5.500, Pinar del Rio 3.900, Camaguay 1,500 Total, 42.800. In addition to the above there are innumerable local bands of from fifteen men to fifty, or even 100. These do not form part of the fighting force and should not be connted on as part of the army. Their main functions are to carry out the orders of Gomez prohibiting the grinding of cane, the movement of troops and supplies by rail, the shipment of provisions to cities, the suppression of "plateados" who rob, burn and commit other crimes. These small bands serve as recruiting agencies, and when they grow too large for local operation they are attached to one of the army columns. Of the army proper fully twothirds are well mounted and about half are well armed. The others are armed with shotguns revolvers or only with the machete.

Armed with Antique Weapons. Some of Maceo's men have old style muzzle-loading guns, and lead is so scarce that telegraph wire chopped into short lengths is used for the charge. Spanish surgeons have on several occasions reported soldiers wounded with bits of wire. The insurgents have a few pieces of mountain cannon captured from government troops. There are perhaps a dozen of these guns which have been used with disastrous effect against the small wooden forts which the Spanish troops have erected at various points. The Cuban 'army of liberation" as it is called, has grown to its present size in the face of almost insurmountable difficulties. From the beginning it has been outnumbered by the army of Spain in the ratio of never less than 4 to 1. It has escaped annihilation in many encounters when ammunition ran out. It has lived on forage, been almost constantly under fire, and is to-day a reckless, daredevil army with but one idea in view, and that is to free Cuba. What comes after is not given a thought. Affairs in Cubs.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Havana, March 18.-It is reported that Antonio Maceo, the second in command of the rebel forces, is near Candelaria, in the province of Pinar del Rio. At a meeting of the reformist party here it was decided to take no part in the election of members of the cortes, it being held impossible for the Replies have been received from the leaders there commending the action of the party, declaring that the elections in Cuba will only be simulated, and advising that the reformists only take part in elections when the provinces are paci-J. > ADJOURNED AMIL BAYONETS. Final Scenes of Kentucky's Turbulent Legislative Session.

Frankfort, Ky., March 18.-The struggle for United States senator from Kentucky, which has just closed, will go down in history as the most remarkable contest ever waged in any state in the Union. The contest really began and was waged at the same time the campaign for state officers was being conducted. The two houses were evenly divided on joint ballot. The republicans have a majority of six in the house of representatives and the democrats control the senate by six From the first ballot to the last this remarkable contest has had the interest of the entire country. Replete from start to finish with sensational incidents, the final act in this great political drama was a fitting denouement. And the spectacle of a legislative body of a great commonwealth being guarded under martial law by the state troops will go down to posterity as a lasting stain upon Kentucky's escutcheon.

THE OLYMPIC GAMES.

Princeton Team's Condition Will Depend on Result of the Trip to Greece.

Princeton, N. J., March 18.-Two men who will represent Princeton in the Olympic games at Athens April 5 to 15 have been in training for the event for some time past, but the condition in which they will appear at Athens will depend very much on the effect the voyage will have on them, as but little time will be left after their arrival in Greece before the contests take place. Princeton will be the only American college to compete in these events, and all the men seem to feel the responsibility of their position. Prof. William Sloane of Princeton has been one of the chief agitators on this side of the water in bringing about the revival of the old games, and it has been largely due to his efforts that Princeton has been able to send out a team. The suits which the contestants are to wear have arrived and were shown for the first time yesterday. They are of white material with a stripe of orange and black down the trousers, a band of the same colors about the waist and another running diagonally across the chest

BICYCLES AS BAGGAGE.

New York Assembly Committee Decides To Report the Armstrong Bill.

Albany, March 18.-Legislation in the interest of 100,000 bicyclists in the state of New York received an impetus yesterday afternoon when the assembly committee on roads decided to report favorably the Armstrong bicycle bill which provides that steam railroads shall carry bicycles free. The wheelmen of the state have been petitioning the members of the legislature for weeks to favor the enactment of this bill, but action was delayed so long that several of the members of the L. A. W., who are pushing the measure, were afraid if its consideration were left until the close of the session it would be lost. The committee, however, determined that the time for action had come and decided to report the bill favorably with amendments. One of the amendments provides that bicycles carried as baggage need not be crated, covered or otherwise protected. RENEWED THEIR EARLY LOVE

Grant is an essence peddlar and years ago met Martha J. Galpin, but his suit was not successful. Since then he has drifted around the country and married twice, she once, and now after several years of loneliness, they have met and renewed their early love.

Philadelphia, May 18.-After having been foiled three times in his efforts to reach Cuba, Gen. Calixto Garcia made a fourth attempt on Sunday evening, when, with thirty-two compatriots, he started in a tug from here to intercept the steamship Bermuda, and it is believed that the entire party is now on board the steamer.

Wires Down and Communication with the Interior Difficult.

AMERICANS' RICHTS IN DANGER

Torres, Who Connived To Kill an American, in Command of the Mosquito Reserve-Our Consulat Greytown Very Busy.

(Special Correspondence.) Greytown, Nicaragua, March 4, via New Orleans, March 18.—The telegraph lines are cut and communication with the interior is only maintained with difficulty. Since the revolution broke out in Leon on February 24, when Francisco Baca "pronounced" against Zelsya and proclaimed himself provisional president with Gen Ortoga as commander-in-chief of the revolutionary forces, reported to be 5,000 strong, we have heard of three engagements in which Zelaya claims to have been victorious, but which were clearly indecisive. In Bluefields business is urterly disorganized, according to reports received here. Gov. Reyes took the field March 1 for Zelaya with only 200 men, which were followed by 300 more from Rama under Col. Luis Mena. Gov. Torres, the man who was removed on the demand of United States Minister Baker for conniving at the escape of Aguillo, who murdere I the American, Wilson, is in command of the Mosquito reserve, now known as the province of Zelaya. Not more than five persons are allowed to assemble together. Torres police permit no one to more than cross the street without a special passport, which costs twenty-five cents each time. Mr. Beat the United States consular agent, has his hands full protecting American rights. Nothing is heard from Minister Baker—"The old lady of Managua," as he is generally called Official proclamation is made in the Boletin de Los Debates, the official journal, that a convention has been agreed upon between Lord Salisbury and Salvadore's minister in London, acting for Nicaragua, to "settle amicably the claims of divers British subjects for losses sustained by them on the Mosquito reserve." It was supposed that with the payment of the $75,000 "smart money" to the British consular agent, Hatch, all further claims for damages had been dropped, but this seems not to be the case. The new convention retains the words which were regarded as reflecting on the United States in the original demand. Article 1 provides for appointment of a commission, "which is to consist of a representative of England (well versed in Spanish), a representative of Nicaragua (who knows well the English language) and a jurist, not a citizen of any American state. This last shall be the president of the commission." The commission is to meet at Bluefields as early as possible Both governments have ratified the conven-

THE LADIES IN POSSESSION. Sons of the Revolution and Daughters of American Revolution Separate. Philadelphia, March 18 .- The many quarrels between the Pennsylvania society of the Sons of the Revolution and the Philadelphia chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution have culminated in the withdrawal of the Sons from Independence hall. For nearly a year there have been frequent clashes and misunderstandings between the two organizations regarding the possession of the old city council chambers in the hall, all growing out of the desire of the Sons to have absolute control. Under an ordinance of the council the Daughters had equal rights. This was so objectionable to the Sons that, finally, they decided to have the conditions altered or quit. They did not have them altered to suit them, so they quit, and the keys of their rooms have been returned to the chief of the bureau of city property. The Daugnters now have entire possession, and will endeavor to restore the rooms to their original condition, having $5,000 to spend for the purpose.

They had just started on their way back to America for rest.

NICARAGUAN REVOLT AN OUTLAW HANGEL

Cherokes Bill Pays the Penalty for Many Crimes.

MOTHER AND SISTER SAW HIM DIE

They Stood on the Gallows Beside Him When the Trap Was Sprung and Displayed No Emotion-A Remarkable Family.

Fort Smith, Ark., March 18.—Crawford Coldsby (Cherokee Bill), who was hanged here vesterday afternoon in the presence of his mother and sister, who stood on the gallows beside him, and a large concourse of spectators, was a most remarkable character, and came from a remarkable family. He became an outlaw at the age of 14. He shot a man with whom he had quarreled, and from that time until his arrest he was on the scout, surpicious of everyone except his mother and sister, and counting no friend so dear as his trusty Winchester. He is credited with more than a dozen murders.

Came To Die; Not To Talk. On the gallows in reply to the question if he had anything to say, he answered: "No. I came here to die, not talk," Turning, he kissed his mother and sister good-bye and with a smile on his face walked to his place on the trap. Father Pius said a prayer while the doomed man was being pinioned. Bill recognized friends inside the enclosure and calling them by name bade them good-bye, and was smiling when the cap was drawn over his head. The noose was adjusted and at 2:13 Turnkey Eoff sprang the lever and threw the trap. Bill got his wonderful nerve from his mother, who stood by him on the gallows without flinching or shedding a tear. She took the body to Fort Gibson for burial One of the many murders charged to Bill was that of Agent Richards of Nowatz. Bill strenuously denied this charge. On the afternoon of July 26 Cherokee Bill put all Fort Smith in an uproar. He had secured a pistol and coming out of his cell, as the prisoners were being locked in, he shot and killed Larry Keating. He also fired several shots at Turnkey Eoff and kept up a fusilade with the guards for half an hour. It was a bold plot of the prisoner to break jail, but it failed.

SEVERAL BIG FAILURES.

Philadelphia Merchants in the Cotton Trade ? ereed to the Wall.

Philaden rch 18.—Several big failures we sunced here yesterday. Oliver at Long and William H. Long, trading as James Long, Brother & Co., manufacturers of dress goods, made a general assignment for the benefit of their creditors to David Nimlet, who also is a manufacturer. The assignment, it is said, was partly precipitated by judgments on notes entered against the firm aggregating $89.949. Oliver N. Long secured judgment against William Rhodes on a note for $75,000, dated February 29, 1896, and payable in three days. In addition to the assignment of the firm, Oliver N. Long individually assigned to David C. Nimlet. William Rhodes, against whom Oliver Long obtained a judgement for $75,000, also assigned, naming Henry C. Loughlin as assignee. Frank H. Rhodes, against whom O. N. Long.obtained judgment on a note for $100,000, and Wm. H. Long against the same for $50,000 also assigned, placing his affairs in the hands of Henry C. Loughlin. It is stated that the notes held by the Longs against the Rhodes were on money loaned the latter for building operations. The failure of the Longs is said to have been caused by dullness of trade and an over stock of goods. The Long Bros. are among the best known manufacturers of cotton and woolen cloths in the United States. It is estimated that the liabilities will not exceed $450,000, while the assets on a very conservative basis, it is estimated, will approximate over

FEARS FOR A SCHOONER.

Nothing Eas Been Heard of the John B. Manning Since March 2.

Boston, March 18 .- On March 2, the same day that the schooner Jonathan Bourne, which is supposed to have sunk off Chatham, left Portland, there also sailed from that port the four-masted schooner John B. Manning of New York, loaded with 1,800 tons of ice, and bound for New York. The Manning has never been heard from since leaving Portland, and, as even with the most unfavorable weather she should have arrived at her destination. It is feared some serious disaster has befallenher. The Manning was commanded by Capt. F. C. Sprague, and her crew consisted of ten men.

FOR DETAINING LETTERS. A Boston Carrier Held in $500 for the Circuit Court.

Boston, March 18.-Joseph W. Nelson, a letter carrier connected with the Dorchester district, and who has for seven years been in the service of the United States, was arrested yesterday afternoon on the charge of detaining letters. A portion of Dorchester avenue is on his route, and on Saturday he visited a fish market on that street He had often visited the store before and was well acquainted with the clerks. He states that he was in a hurry to complete his work on Saturday, as he had an engagement he desired to keep, and that he had a very large amount of mail to deliver. He took thirty-one letters, all addressed to people living on his route, and, tieing them in a bundle, placed them beneath the counter in the store, with the idea of calling for them on Monday and then completing his delivery. Monday he did not report for duty, and a substitute carrier was placed on his route. During that day a clerk found the bundle of letters, and, after waiting for Nelson to return and take them, thought that if the United States authorities became aware of the fact that the letters were in the store he, himself, would be arrested. He then hurriedly reported the circumstances to Chief Inspector Boynton, and the latter caused the arrest of Nelson. Before United States Commissioner Fiske, Nelson pleaded guilty, waived examination, and was held in $500 for the May term of the circuit

The bill provides that no alien shall be admitted to the United States without a certificate from a United States consul to the country from which he hails that he is eligible. The bill also includes an educational test for persons between the ages of sixteen and sixty. Intending immigrants between these ages must be able to read and write in some language. Females, however, are excepted from this provision. The last amendment was insisted upon by Chairman Bertholdt, rep., Mo., who is a native of Germany, and throughout the discussion in committee has disapproved of anything at all sweeping in the way of

RATE OF WAGES RESTORED. Labigh Valley Railroad Increases Salaries to the Scale Previous to 1893.

Philadelphia, March 18 - It is learned that the 10 per cent reduction in wages made by the Lehigh Valley Railroad company in 1893 has been restored. The change, which was made by the board of directors to take effect March I, will affect all salaried employes from the president down receiving more than $1,000 per year. The original reduction of 10 per cent, in all salaries in excess of that figure was due to the reduction in the carnings of the company following its disastrous connection with the Reading and the return to the old salary rate is directly due to the present improvement in the earnings of the road.

House Committee Will Recommend More War Vessels.

BATTLE SHIPS AND TORPEDO BOATS

The Construction of Four More of the Former and Fifteen of the Latter Believed To Be Advisable.

Washington, March 18 .- At yesterday's meeting of the house naval committee it was decided to recommend in the naval appropriation bill the construction of four battleships and fifteen torpedo boats. The battleships will have a displacement of about eleven thousand tons and shall cost not to exceed $3,750,000 each, exclusive of armament. The appropriations to begin the work on the battleships will be in keeping with the amount which Secretary Herbert stated he could expend next year for that purporse. Five of the torpedo boats will be of large size and will cost in the aggregate $850,000, while the appropriation for the remaining ten, which will be of smaller dimensions, will be $800,000. In view of the expedition with which boats of this character can be built, $1,256,250 of the entire amount will be provided for in the present bill. The large boats will have a speed of twenty-six knots against twenty for the smaller vessels.

Wanted Six Battleships. This conclusion was reached only after a two hours' discussion participated in by the thirteen members present. Mr. Hall of Missouri, an absentee, in a letter to the committee, requested his vote recorded in favor of the largest number of ships which it might be regarded necessary to recommend, but his request was not granted. Hibborn of California finally moved that the committee recommend four battleships. Hanley of Indiana offered an amendment fixing the number of battleships at six. The first vote was taken on the amendment. It was defeated-

Those voting in the negative were Messrs. Boutelie of Maine, Hulick of Ohio, Hilborn of California, Bull of Rhode Island, Wilson of New York, Foss of Illinois and Dayton of West Virginia. The vote on the Hilborn proposition for four ships was carried unanimously. The principal items of the bill have been given heretofore in these dispatches and the measure as agreed to, without the allowance for the new ships, will carry an appropriation of $28,454,784.

FITZ ON HIS DIGNITY. --He Positively Refuses To Make a Match with Corbett at Present.

Buffalo, March 18.-A reporter called on Fitzsimmons last evening and asked him if he would sign the articles of agreement, now said to have arrived here, for a fight with Corbett before the National Sporting club of London. Corbett has already signed the agreement. Fitzsimmons declared emphatically that he would not agree to meet Corbeit at present. "I have signed many articles to fight Corbett," maid Fitzsimmons, "but he has always made me wait and put me off as much as possible. Now I will give him a dose of his own medicine." "Then I am to understand that you will not sign?" Exactly; that's my position. Let Corbett whip Maher or somebody elso and get a reputation." "He has whipped many men and his reputation is as good as yours, is it not?" said the reporter. At this the auborn-haired pugilist got excited and replied in an angry tone: "Who has he ever whipped? Only two old has-beens." At this point Fitzsimmons stood up as straight as the liberty pole, and, pointing his hand downward, said: "I've got that man Corbett under my foot lier fingers gave mine an appreciative squeeze.

THE CAPTAIN FROM BATH. Continued from Yesterda .

"But who in the world are you?" she whispered.

"I think," said I, bending over her hand, "I have fairly carned the right to withhold that."

Sir Harry bowed a stiff good-night to me, and William, the footman, took a candle and led the way along the gallery and down the great staircase to, the front door. While he undid the chain and bolts, I was thinking that he would be all the better for a kick; and, us he drew aside to let me pass, I took him quickly by the collar, spun him round, and gave him one. A flight of, a dozen steps led down from the front door, and he pitched clean to the bottom. Running down after, I skipped over his prostrate body and walked briskly away in the darkness, whistling and feeling better. I went round the end of the gallery wing, just to satisfy myself that Jimmy had got away with the ladder, and then I struck across the plantation in the direction of the village. The June day was breaking before I turned out of the woods into the high-road, and already the mowers were out and tramping to their work. But in the porchway of the village inn, called the "Well-Diggers' Arms"-whatever they may be-I surprised a cockneyfied groom in the act of kissing a maiden, who, having a milk-pail in either hand, could not be expected to resist.

"H'm," said I to the man, "I am sorry to appear inopportunely, but I have a message for your master."

The maiden fled. "And who the doose may you be?" asked the groom, eying me up and down. "I think," I answered, "it will be enough for you that I come from Nauscarne. You were late there. Oh, yes," I went on sharply, for fellows of this class have a knack of irritating me, "and I have a message for your master which I'll trouble you to deliver when he comes down to breakfast. You will tell him, if you please, that Sir Harry was expecting him last night, and the lights he saw lit in the long gallery were there for his reception. You won't for-

for it was high time to find out how Jimmy had been faring. The past night's experience must have given him a shock, and I reckoned to give him another. I wasn't disappointed, either. I walked leisurely down the village

"No more you did," said I; and, climbing down and sitting on a gravelide him I told him all the

"And now, Jimmy," I wound up. "you must guess what I'm going to do."

"I don't need to," said he. "I know." "I wager you don't."

"I wager I do."

"Well, then, I'm going back. Was that what you guessed?"

"I think you will not."

"Ah, but I will," said I. "I swore by the blood of a Fitzroy Pilkington Pd be back in the morning, and I can't retreat from so tremendous an oath as that. Back I mean to go. As for the real captain-if captain he is-I farcy I've seared him out of the neighborhood for some time to come. And as for the credentials, I fancy, at my time of life, I should be able to write my own commendation. I believe the old boy has a sneaking good-will towards me. I can't answer for the girl; but I can answer that she'll hold her tongue for awhile at all events. This life doesn't become a man of my education and natural ability. And the risk is worth running."

"I wouldn't, if I were you," says he, very dryly.

"And why not?"

"Well, you see, when I heard the noise last night, and all the place grew light as it did, I was just starting to run for dearlife, till itstruck me that if the folks meant to go searching for me they wouldn't begin by lighting the picture gallery from end to end. So I drew close under shadow of the wall and waited, ready to run at any moment. But after awhile, finding that nothing happened, I grew curious and crept up after you and looked in through the window, very cautious. A nice fix you seemed to be in; but old Jenkins was there. And while Jenkins was there-"

"Well? "Well, I should have thought you might have guessed. The boit of his bedroom window wasn't hard to force, nor the lock of the small room. Being single-handed, I had to pick and choose what to carry off. But if you'll look under the bracken yonder, you'll own

THE UNHAPPY MARRIAGE. Some of the Causes of Trouble Between Husband and Wife.

When two people have entered into the relation of marriage, calling God and man to witness, they have performed an act as sacred as a sacrament-one held in some forms of religious belief to be indeed a sacrament. It seems strange that into the awfu!ness of anything approaching a sacrament, a relation reaching back among the mysteries of creation in its potent results, people should allow small and trivial concerns to make dissidence.

But in too many marriages this is what happens. A thoughtless wife maddens a worried husband an exacting husband wearies and wears out a high-spirited wife. Sometimes they fight it out in the union; and though harm is done, it is much less harm than comes in the more public way. Sometimes the wronged party has regard to the speech of people, thinks of others. of acquaintances, friends, parents, children, and bears the burden as best it may be borne; sometimes thinks of duty, and calls on Heaven for help; sometimes, when love and happiness are gone, finds comfort in the love of Heaven. Sometimes forgetfulness is nearly attained in some of the thousand pursuits of science, art, charity or business. One thing is certain, that forgetfulness may be found. And another thing is equally certain, that it is the duty of both parties to find it. Because a wife loses her first bloom because her husband outgrows her intellectually, because another has come to seem lovelier in his eyes, a husband is afforded thereby no excuse whatever for absolving himself from his marriage vows. Because a husband is selfish, because he is parsimonious or mean, because he is tyrannical, because he objects to her friends, a wife has no more excuse. Life may become all but unbearable with him or with her; but if there are children with a future to be considered, it is to be borne, and duty and decency must enforce a behavior before the children that shal! hinder their injury from wrong influences so far as possible. It may be hard to bear; it may be almost impossible; but self-control is an invaluable ally. The utmost frivolity, the utmost indifference to his wishes, does not justify a husband in pulling the cloth from the table and all the china with it; his pulling the cloth off does not justify her in putting herself under the illegal protection of another man. We do not say, indeed, that if a husband persists against his wife's wish in introducing into the family an element or a person that the wife knows to be poisonous to herself or to her children, or that if the wife persists against her husband's wish in any corresponding course, that either party may not be justified in the determination to live apart from the other. But there is, at any rate, a dignity in a separation that is entirely wanting in a divorce. And surely there is still a great deal of happiness possible in a dignified and virtuous separation, if it is only the happiness of acquired peace and freedom.-Harper's

TREATMENT OF HEADACHE.

Household Remedies for a Very Painful Affliction.

"There are so many causes for headaches, and so many conditions that lead up to this distressing malady, that it is often very difficult to diagnosticate the case properly," said a medical man of wide experience. 'Of course, if the root of the matter is not reached, medicines avail nothing and may do more harm than good. One thing, however, is quite certain, and that is that congestion is a very frequent accompaniment of headache, and the pressure on the brain becomes extremely painful and may lead to dangerous consequences. It is evident, therefore, that any course of treatment that relieves the overfull blood-vessels of the brain must be desirable. It is always best to consult some reliable physician, if one is within reach; but this a great many people are averse to doing, and some are so situated that medical aid is not within call. For this class of persons a simple remedy may be mentioned that has been the means of relieving many a sufferer, and is so easily applied and so absolutely harmless that it is well worth knowing. "When the beating, thumping sensation begins in the head, take equal quantities of pure cayenne pepper and flour; mix them up with water to form a smooth paste thick enough to spread like a salve. Fut this upon a piece of soft paper and apply it to the back of the neck just below the edge of the hair. In warm weather it is best to wash the neck with a cloth wet with soap and water, as the oily perspiration may interfore with the action of the plaster. One great advantage of cayenne-plaster over mustard is that while the latter frequently blisters, the former never does so, no matter how strong it is applied. In the use of mustard, if the skin is broken all treatment must cease until it heals, but with pepper, when the plaster loses its effect another may be applied without unpleasant consequences.

"It is an item of importance that pure pepper must be used. This should come from the druggist's, and a reliable one at that. It is very seldom that grocery cayenne is pure, and for this reason the chemist is the better dispenser of such compounds as are required for medicinal purposes."-N. Y. Ledger.

He Was Not Mistaken. A Houston physician, while diagnosing a case, fired a number of questions at his patient, which flew wide of the mark. He was finally successful, however. "You--er--sometimes have a--ertited feeling come over you, which-"Yes," interrupted the patient, "I feel it now. I am fired, very tired." "Just as I thought," said the young physician, "I am seldom mistaken in

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condi-tion of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, prompt-ly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneeffects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine arti-cle, which is manufactured by the Cali-fornia Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely bed and gives most general satisfaction.

TEN MILLION TONS OF COAL New York Annually Consumes This Amount with Little Smoke.

A prominent New York coal merchant, while showing a Tittsburgh friend about New York on the occasion of the lafter's first visit to the metropolis, took him to the top of one of the very highest buildings in town and pointed out to him the different objects of interest that could be seen. The western man took in the beautiful view of the bay and then locked northward over miles and miles of roofs and chimneys, over the vast expanse of street and park, business buildings and dwellings, and then turned to his friend with the remara that the most astonishing thing to him was that it was so clear. Not a blot of smoke marred the landscape. Clear and brilllant in the sun of a brilliant winter day. New York was clean and neat and the greatest possible contrast to the dingy and grimy cities of the west, where the use of coal is not restricted to certain kinds. New Yorkers have made a study of the combustion of coal, and they have learned how to get the most out of it with the least dirt and smoke. The enormous amount of 10,000,000 tons of anthracite coal is now burned every year in New York, and this is not at all remarkable when it is considered to into the everyday life of the people. The coal dealers of New York are legion, and the business has grown to immense proportions. The ease with which coal can be shipped to New York and unloaded in order to get it to the market with the least possible handling has contributed to a great extent to the success which New York coal merchants have attained.-X. WEDNESDAY, MARCH 18, 1896

Senator Changler is shocked at the way money is being extorted from manufacturers all over the country "to be expended in manipulating State conventions in McKinley's interest." Things must have come to a bad pass, indeed, when Chandler is shocked. He isn't at ali squeamish in his ideas of political progreety.

Mayor Strong, of New York, aunounced, yesterday, that he is opposed to the Raines bill. He will not attend the hearing which the Gover nor is giving the Mayors of the cities of the State, to-day, but has arranged to have Assistant Corporation Clarke present New York city's objections to the bill.

The Republican in schine has called the church to its aid, and, in accordance with a scheme agreed on at the Sunday conference with Platt in New York, clergymen in all parts of the State are being solicited to write to Governor Morton and urge him to sign the Raines bill. The movement has every appearance of sportaneity, but its machine origin is without doubt. The coolimpudence and grim humor of this attempt of the Republican bosses to use the church to help carry through a partisan measure has not been matched since the devil tempted our Savior.

The Good Roads bill was practically killed in the Senate, yesterday. It proposed the abolition of the system of working out highway taxes and required their payment in cash, the fund thus obtained to be expended jointly by town and county commissioners of highways. Senators from rural districts were practically a unit in opposing the bill, and amendments were offered exempting twenty-eight counties from its operations. In this cally of no effect and it will be defested when it comes up for final ladles of Port Jervis. passage.

As the most eff-cure possible pretest against Governor Bradley's attempt to intimidate the Kentucky legislature by the presence of armed troops, the Senate refused to vote on the revenue bills that had come to it from the House, and the legislature adjourned, leaving the State without money or credit. A few months of Republican rule have brought the L. M. Davis, Mrs. M. W. Mason, State to a condition that borders on use the military to overawe the legislature and force the election of a Republican to the United States Senate has brought lasting disgrace on the State, and is without a parallel in the history of this country.

MEANING OF YESTERDAY'S VOYE.

most strenuous efforts to secure favorable action the taxpayers, yesterday, refused to sanction the expenditure of $15,000 additional to the $60,000 already appropriated by them for the high school building.

The opposition to the appropriation was entirely spontaneous and with out even a pretense of organization and in view of this the only rational explanation of the adverse vote is that a majority of the people of this town are so supremely disgusted with the manner in which the single election act was forced upon them that they seized on this, the first op portunity that offered, to give expression to their disapprobation of the devious ways and dishonorable methods employed to make that messure law.

This and this only can explain yesterday's verdict, for it is a good challenge that in all the Empire State there is not a community equal to this of ours in the willingness of ndividuals to tax themselves for the common welfare. It is this liberal pub lie spirit that has made Middletown conspicuous at large for enterprise and push both as a village and a city.

Few of those who voted against the appropriation, yesterday, cared for the $15,000 at issue. The tay, spread over flye years, would have been the merest bagatelle to even he heaviest taxpayer. The propo-

THE ARGUS. BOILER WORKS ON FIRE.

THE FACTORY'S NARROW ESCAPE FROM DESTRUCTION.

fue Fire Started in the Wooden Caston -Employes Used the Fire Rose With Firemen-The Damage Not Great-

Tue Hegan Boiler Works had a sarrow escape from total destruction by fire, about 11 o'clock this morning, and but for the fact that the building is thoroughly equipped with fire hose and that the employes worked like Trojans, the whole plant would have been destroyed.

The fire originated from an overheated chimney which was cased in wood, and it had probably been burning for some time before the flames burst through the grooved woodwork. The flames were first discovered at the head of the stairway near the door leading into the draughing room on the second floor of the office building, and in a moment all communication with that room was cut

The fire hose was brought out and a stream turned on.

Mr. Charles H. Fuller, the bookkeeper, sprang to the telephone on the first floor and sent word to the central office and to the Argus office. Eagle Hose Company was promptly notified and an alarm was sent in from box 57 at Franklin Square. A great deal of valuable time was thus saved, as the nearest box to the works is at the corner of Academy avenue and Genung street, a full quarter of a mile from the plant.

Eacle Hose Company responded promptly and soon had a stream st work, from the hydrant directly in front of the works. The flames were confined to the office end of the attucture, and it is there that all the damage was done.

All the original drawings and blue prints used in the construction of the boilers were in the draughting room, and it was at first thought they had been totally destroyed, but after the fire it was found that but very few of them are seriously damaged. A number of papers, several blue prints and other documents, which were lying on the drawing table and upon desks in the room, were burned.

The woodwork, with which the hallways, watls and ceilings of the building were lined, is a total loss.

The office on the ground floor was deluged with water, but all the books and papers which were lying about were hurriedly thrown into the safe and escaped damage.

The pattern shop across the hall from the draughting room, and the machinery in it received a thorough drenching, but beyond the warping of a few patterns it is thought the damage will not amount to a great

It was a very fortunate thing that the fire did not extend to the machine shop, as six boilers are now in course of construction. There will be but little delay in resuming work, as there was no damage done to this part of the plant.

The loss is fully covered by insurance, but as yet it is impossible to

WHAT A WOMAN CAN DO.

Mrs. Patterson's Astoniching Before-Breakfast Catch.

She Lands Two Fish Weighing in All 227 Pounds-It Took Twenty Minutes to Land One, and Sixteen to Get the Other.

A picture of the new woman angler, with two of her catches, is shown herewith. The lady's name is Mrs. J. N. Patterson, and she lives in Philadelphia. The fish were caught while Mr. Patterson lay asleep in bed at his hotel in Florida. Mr. Patterson is himself a good angler, but he is not so earnest in the sport as his wife. The larger of the two fish weighs 120 pounds, and is six feet long. The smaller weighs 107 pounds and is five feet eight inches in length. They are both tarpons, or "silver kings," as they are known among the sportsmen of the south. They are fine to look at, having beautiful scales, but are not very good to. eat. It is said that none but a colored person will eat a tarpon. The same is aid with regard to a sturgeon and

Both beautiful specimens were caught by Mrs. Patterson after the exercise of considerable patience and skill. On the day before Mr. Patterson had made a fairly large catch, and had taunted, Mrs. Patterson thereat, saying that a woman might ride the bicycle, but she. couldn't catch fish. Stung by this bantering Mrs. Patterson rose early the next morning, called her boatman and rowed out on the Caloosahatchie river, where tarpons are said to abound. The morning was pleasant and there was every indication that the tarpons were

In a very short time one was hooked, and then began an exciting struggle.

ARS. PATTERSON'S BEFORE-BREAKFAST CATCH.

The tarpon is a very timid fish of the herring kind, and his timidity, coupled with his great size and strength, make him a desirable prey to the angler. In fishing for them a strong, stiff rod is used, about seven feet long, to which is attached 150 yards of strong line, wound around a ree!. The hook is about as big as a gaff. The bait is a piece of mullet, fresh cut from the fish. The tarpon nibbles the bait slowly, and on account of the hardiness of the jaws it is useless to attempt to catch him until he has swallowed the hook. Altogether, the creature may be said to be in every way fit to provide sport for the new woman angler.

After Mrs Patterson had hooked her fish it took 20 minutes of hard fighting to tire him out. Then he was hauled up alongside and gaffed by an enormous hook fastened to a pole. This implement was handled by the boatman, Mrs. Patterson relaxing the feminine character of the proceedings far enough to permit of his humble assistance.

A 107-pound fish is a pretty fair catch for a woman, especially before breakfast, and it might have been expected that the lady would have returned to the hotel satisfied. But not so. The book was baited afresh, and in less than an hour another bite was had; the line slowly ran over the side of the boat, and then the time for striking came. The monster made heroic efforts to break away, but there was a new woman on the other end of the line and all his struggles were unavalling. She let the fish leap and roll and plunge and dive as it would, the line was always stretched out to the proper degree of tautness.

It took 16 minutes to kill this fish. Mrs. Patterson was back at the hotel before 11 o'clock, and her husband could scarce believe his cars when she told him the story. But he believed his eyes when he saw the fish Mrs. Patterson now coans the championship in the matter of tarpon-catching before breakfast. Hers is the liggest basket that has ever been caught by a woman Of course none but the new woman could have done it.

The tarpon contains a great quantity of oil, for which reason it is not a very choice article of food. The beautiful silvery scales with which it is covered constitute its greatest value. They vary in size, being from two to four mehes in diameter, and are not unlike the inside of a native oyster shell, although more silvery. When dried they are remarkably tough, and do not lose any of that brilliancy they display on the live

SAVED THE OWNER TROUBLE. Burglar Opened a Safe When the Combi-

The proprietor of a large store on High street went to his place of business at an unusually early hour one prorning; in fact, the sun had not yet risen when he turned the key in the door. On entering he was surprised to find a man trying to open the door of his safe. He stood and watched him for some time, apparently deeply interested in the proceedings, says the West Bedford (Mass.) Windmill, when finally the burglar swung open the coor of the safe with a delighted chuckle, but happening to turn he saw that he was discovered, and became very much alarmed. He jumped up and was about to make his escape through a back window, when the merchant called to him:

"Don't be in a hurry, my friend; come back and sit down awhile and emoke a cigar, while I straighten things up a bit, and then come to breakfast with me. You have done me a great favor."

Was the Noted Sleuth Himself a Successful Bank Cracksman.

"The most mysterious affair I ever knew in detective circles," said a wellknown sleuth to a Washington Star writer, "was a case in the west. A detective had become famous by reason of his success in ferreting out heavy robberies. It seemed that none of the professionals could escape when he once started upon their trails. After a time all such cases were placed in his hands. The first one that he could not discover the thiel was a big bank robbery, then after a year or two another, then another; his reputation was suffering, but it was still good, as during the same period he was successful in other difficult cases. He was taken sick with fever, and while delirious told how he himself had perpetrated the robberies, describing every movement in detail. When he recovered, it was claimed that his failure to unravel the mysteries had caused the raving confessions, but other men were put upon them, and ther failed to find any clew whatever. The detective retired and lives in elegant style, but whether or not he was as success-

No False Returns

Here-Piain Facts Indorsed by Chas Mogler, Who Resides at 40 Yale Street, Rochester, N. Y.

From Rochester Union and Advertiser.

Few people will admit failure while there is a chance for argument; many people claim success when no one arises to dispute it. What we want to do is to place our claims where doubt is out of the question; we are doing this every day and the public are beginning to appreciate it. Now, to get right down to the point, everybody knows that there is many an aching back, many a lame and painful one, the suffering from which makes life a burden, but having tried so many remedies, the sufferer not finding success looks upon those who profess to have a cure with all the skepticism of a skeptic; and yet one more struggla with the right ally and the back is free; others have done it, why not you? Read what Mr. Chas. Mcgler, of 40 Yale street, Rochester, N. Y., says: "About aix months age I had my first attack of kidney complaint; it was a very bad one, but a subsequent one was still worse. I am a street inspector, and this keeps me on my f-et most of the time, which seemed to increase my rouble. n Parting Benediction.

A country minister in a certain Tocality, took permanent leave of his congregation in the following pathetic manuer: " Brothers, I come to say good-bye. I don't think God loves this church because none of wou ever die. I don't think you leve each other because I never marry way of you. I don't think you love one because you have not paid my salary; your donations are mouldy fruit and wormy apples, and 'by their fruits ye shall knew them." Brothers I am going away to a better glace. A PECULIAR REMEDY.

Something About the New Discovery for Curing Dyspepsia,

From Mich, Christian Advocate. The Rev. F. I. Bell, a highly esteemed minister residing in Weedsport, Cayuga Co., N. Y., in a recent letter writes as follows: "Inere has been nothing that I have taken that has relieved the Dyspepsia from which I have suffered for ten years except the new remedy calle 1 Stuart's Dyspensia Tablets. Since taking them I have had no distress at all after eating and again after long years can sleep well. Rev. F. I. Bell, Weedsport, N. Y., formerly Idaha, Colo."

Stuart's Dyspopsia Tablets is a remarkable remedy, not only because it is a certain cure for all forms of indigestion, but because it seems to: act as thoroughly in old chronic cases of Dyspepsia as well as in mild attacks of Indigestion or biliousn ss. A person has dyspepsia simply because the atomach is overworked; remedy to digest the fond and thus give it the much needed rest.

This is the secret of the success of this peculiar remedy. No matter how much disordered the digestion may be Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food whether the stomach works or not. New life and energy is given not only to the stomach but to every organ and nerve in the body. A trial of this splendid medicine will convince the most skeptical that Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles can be cured. The tablets are prepared by the Stuart Chemical Co. of Marshall, Mich., but so popular has the remedy become that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can now be obtained at any drug store at 50 cents per package.

UP HHE MIDLAND.

A Commercial Missionary—Road Improvements-A Funny Railroad Acci-

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

-The smiling face of Chester Bogart, of Middletown, is often seen in these Up Midland towns. Mr. Bogart is a commercial missionary and does good and faithful service for the firm that employs him, and has a large and growing trade among our merchants. He is one of the many of our Up Midland people who have cast their lot with Middletown, having been born and raised in Downsville, Delaware county.

-The people of Western Sullivan, between Callicoon and Long Endy on the Erie, and Cooks Falls and Livingston Manor on the Ontario and Western, are making great efforts to better the roads leading to the stations on the last named railroad, where they find better facilities for trading. Six farmers who formerly took their milk to Callicoon Depot ail it wants is a harmless vege able are now delivering it to Rockland oreamery, and during the coming summer a considerable sum of money will be expended in the betterment of the highway between Thumwanville and Rockland. -The many friends of Harvey

Moore, of Middletown, who is one of the oldest in service of the engineers on the Ontario and Western, will bear me out in saying that he is as safe and careful as any of his fellows and has had as few, if not fewer, ec eidents than any one as long in service on the road. Mr. Moore got into a scrape once, under the management of the old Midland Company, that has never been published that I am aware of. In fact there were but three witnesses to the accident, Mr. Moore, his fireman and the writer. Harvey was hauling a freight at that time, and when he got to Rockland was ordered to back down to help the passenger train, No. 2, which for some reason was in distress near East Branch. About half way between Rockland and Cooks Falls the tender of his engine left the rails, and sheering out to one side came in contact with a large hemlock stump (the track was not far from the stumps in those days), and before he could stop the engine the tender was turned completely around, end for end, and the engine left on the track without any damag having been done to it. It was a ludicrous accident to say the least, and I never see the doughty engineer or hear his name mentioned but I think of bis changing ends with his tender against that stump. He has probably not forgotten it either.

Yesterday, he secured his liberty by paying damages to the amount of $50 and costs of the proceedings. He remarked on leaving the court room that he would either walk or travel by rail hereafter.

Taken in Time.

Hood's Sareaparilla has achieved great success in warding off sickness which, if allowed to progress, would have undermined the whole system and given disease a strong foothold to cause much suffering and even threaten death. Hood's Sarsaparilla has done all this and even more. It has been taken in thousands of cases which were thought to be incurable. and after a fair trial has effected wonde ful cures, bringing health, strength and joy to the afflicted. Another important point about Hood's Sarsaparilla is that its cures are permanent, because they start from the solid foundation of purified. vitalized and enriched blood. But it is not what we say but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does that tells the story.

Indeed, so many women are now appealing to Mrs. Pinkham for advice, that a score of lady secretaries are kept constantly at work answering the great volume of correspondence which comes in every day. Each letter is answered carefully and accurately, as Mrs. Pinkham fully realizes that a life may depend upon her reply, and into many and many a home has she shed the rays of happiness.
